Seven Mile Creek County Park

Official
Bird
Checklist

Seven Mile Creek County Park is one of the finest birding locations in south central Minnesota.

While it is primarily wooded, its proximity to the Minnesota River offers chances of seeing migrating waterfowl, raptors, and other birds flying overhead. Spring and fall migration can be spectacular as warblers, sparrows, and other migrants stop to rest and feed in the confines of the park.

Uncommon breeding birds that have been seen in the park during the summer include: Cooper's Hawk, Acadian Flycatcher, Louisiana Waterthrush, Cerulean Warbler, and Yellow-Bellied Sapsucker. Please use the following checklist to record what species you see while visiting the park.

Y = Year-Round
S = Summer
